FOR KENTUCKY—Probably showers in the northern portion Tuesday. Cooler.

Taft mounted the raging stump Saturday and denounced as a lie the story that he had said $1 a day was enough for any laboring man.

There is no denying the fact that Bryan's prospects are brightening every day. Nearly every Democrat who still claims allegiance to the party is in line for the ticket.

Former Senator E. W. Carmack on Tuesday became editor-in-chief of the Nashville Tennessean. He will have complete control of the paper and may reorganize the staff.
The policy of the paper will remain unchanged. It is understood that it has been reinforced with $100,000 new capital.

Tom J. Landrum died suddenly at the Chicago Beach hotel in Chicago Friday night. John W. Landrum, his brother, and Dr. John Dismukes, of Mayfield, accompanied the body to Princeton, where the funeral took place Sunday. Mr. Landrum was well known all over Western Kentucky. His death was a great shock to his friends, as it was not known that he was dangerously ill. He had lived recently in St. Louis.

Gen. Luke E. Wright is the tenth Tennessean to serve in the Cabinet.
His predecessors were Geo. W. Campbell 1814, John H. Eaton 1832, Carey A. Harris 1836, Felix Grundy 1839, John Bell 1841, Cave Johnson 1845, Aaron V. Brown 1857, David M. Key 1877, Horace Maynard 1880.
Four were secretaries of war, one secretary of the treasury, one attorney general and four postmaster general.

The total vote for Congressman in the Sixth district Democratic primary was: Rhinock 4,315, Elliston, 3,438, Gooch 2,779, Hodge 1,778, Cleary $27, Nadand 463. The total vote cast was 13,630. As it cost $833 to enter the primary, some of the candidates paid $1 to $2 each for every vote received. The combined plurality against Rhinock was even 5,000 and yet he was nominated. It is sometimes easier to beat five men than one.

The fire at Murray in the early hours of Saturday morning was admittedly the work of a firebug, though the affair is involved in more or less mystery. W. L. Whit-nell, in whose house the fire started, was one of three men Judge Cook named as witnesses to be summoned before the grand jury that investigated the report that he was a night rider. Whitnell has been a bitter enemy of the night riders and he has suffered the same misfortune that befell the witness Hendricks in Calloway and the dissenting juror, Dodds, in Lyon county.

GUTHRIE CASE

Adj. Gen. Johnston Says the Soldiers Were Protecting Railroad Property.

Frankfort, Ky.—According to information which was gathered by Adjutant General P. P. Johnston, when he was in Guthrie a week or two ago, the two militiamen who were under arrest there charged with breaking into a railroad car, were doing nothing except protecting the property of the railroad. The incident occurred several days ago.
The soldiers were on duty along the railroad track under orders to watch and protect the property of the railroad.

Just a short time before that night riders had burned three depots on the Illinois Central railroad and were threatening the Louisville & Nashville railroad's property. The soldiers were instructed to protect the rolling stock. They claim they were walking along the track when they found a freight car with the door open. One of the soldiers entered the car, he says, to see if there was anything or anybody in it. The civil authorities swooped down on them about that time and charged them with breaking into the car. The car contained whisky, which was not touched by the soldiers, but this is being used against them.

Gen. Johnston says it may have been a trap laid for the soldiers in order to create opposition to them and put them in a bad attitude to the public.

OCTOGENARIAN

Dies of Infirmities Incident to Advanced Age.

Nelson Wade, a prominent business man and well known citizen of Fairview, died Saturday after an illness of long duration. He was about 85 years old and had been a member of the Cumberland Presbyterian church for many years. Mr.
Wade was twice married and is survived by his widow, and two children, Thomas Wade, of Huntsville, Ala., and Richard Wade, of Fairview, by a former marriage. The interment took place in the Goshen church burying ground yesterday.

On Ice.

"Yes," said Alkali Ike, "a couple o' cow punchers indulged in a very pretense scientific scrap down at Bad Bucko's yesterday."

"It's wonderful how cool those fellows keep under the circumstances," remarked the eastern tourist.
"Yas; they certainly have to be kept cool, stranger. I believe, for some reason or other, their funerals ain't to be for a couple o' days yet."—Philadelphia Press.

MARRIED 14 TIMES

But Phoebe Townsend Failed to Find Happiness.

Is there any woman in all these broad United States of ours who thinks herself capable of managing fourteen men—all of them husbands —let her read the story of how a Nebraska woman tried it, failed and is still hopeful. Mrs. Phoebe Townsend, of Dodge, Neb., is the woman.
She has been married fourteen times within the span of her fifty years of life. This is believed to be the record from the time when marriages were kept—at least in this country.
On the subject of how to manage a husband, Mrs. Townsend says:

"Although I lost so many husbands, it is no fault of mine. I was a good wife to each of them. I guess it's a matter of luck. I know how to manage a husband. You mustn't love him too much. That is not for your own good. And it is not good for him. It spoils him. You should conceal some of your affections so that you may keep him in hopes of winning more. You mustn't let him know that you're managing him. That will never do. If he has any obstinacy, and most men have a good deal, he will fight. You've got to lead him. Some of my husbands were very obstinate. But I generally managed to get them to do what I wanted them to do. Of course I couldn't make them faithful, and I couldn't give them good dispositions if they didn't have them. You can change a man somewhat, but you would be a fool to think you could make him over. I've had too much experience to believe that. I tell you a woman must have a good deal of hope in her to marry a man at all. I guess I'm of a hopeful disposition.
I'm not mean. I don't think I'm selfish. But I know my rights. There are some things I can't stand. I had the hard luck to get men who didn't appreciate me. Affection isn't all a man wants. Some of them just want a servant. Even a woman who is married to a good man will find that the best of them are selfish. I suppose women are, too, in certain ways. Maybe it's a matter of luck whether married people can get along with each other's selfishness.
Anyway, people have got to marry.
We are told that it is not good for man to be alone. A woman is just as helpless. I always got lonesome after I parted from one of my husbands. No one ought to blame me.
My children have, and so have other people. But I think I'm right in my search for happiness. I thought I'd found it when I married at 13. Maybe it is not my fate to find it."

TENANT HOUSE

On Farm of C. A. Brasher Burned Near Casky.

A house on the farm of C. A.
Brasher, near Casky, was burned Friday night. It was occupied by Albert Johnson, colored, a tenant, who lost all his household goods. His wife and a little boy living with them barely had time to escape in their night clothes. Johnson was firing tobacco near by and stuck to his post, being afraid to leave the barn for fear it would catch also.
The fire was caused by an overturned lamp. There was no insurance.

Don't be afraid, it's an Anchor.

Webster's Dictionary describes ANCHOR as follows: "That which gives stability or security—That on which we place dependence for safety."

The users of an Anchor define it as "A buggy which insures security—on which to place dependence for safety."

Why does the Anchor insure security?

Because it is built right—with the strongest gear, shafts, body, etc., ever constructed. Strongest, because of the high grade of material and the way it is built.

If you appreciate high-class mechanical construction, you'll appreciate the Anchor.

It's a stylish buggy too, comfortable and easy riding.
